Indoor Air Quality Benefits

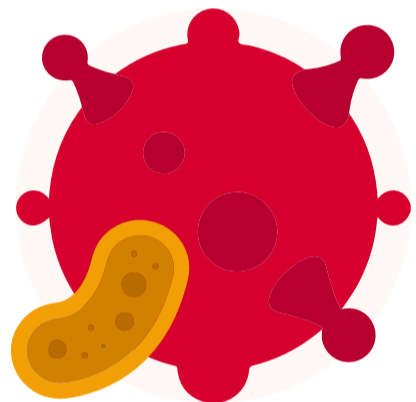

With Reme Halo

The quality of the air inside of your home plays a big role in your family's health. To ensure the utmost air quality level, the Reme Halo is a necessary indoor air purification system addition for any existing air conditioning system.

KILLS VIRUSES AND BACTERIA

The Reme Halo will kill up to 99% of microbes, viruses, and bacteria inside your home. Removing these airborne pollutants offers protection for your family against their harmful bodily effects.

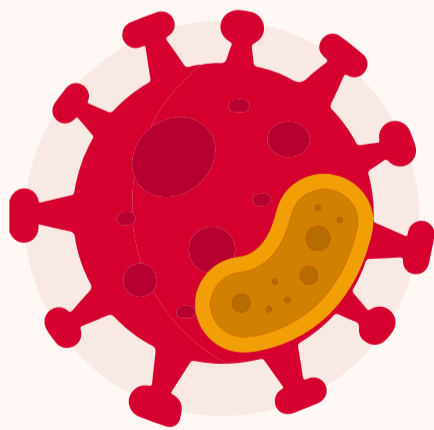

EFFICIENTLY SILENT OPERATION

When you run the Reme Halo in your Atascocita, TX home, it will operate silently and efficiently. It only requires a small amount of space and will work with your existing HVAC system setup.

WHOLE HOME COVERAGE

Improving indoor air quality throughout your home is easy with the Reme Halo. You only need this one unit to handle all the rooms throughout your home. Say goodbye to multiple air purification devices.

KILLS VIRUSES PRESENT ON SURFACES

The Reme Halo goes above and beyond with its world-class zinc ionization technology. This system allows invisible zinc ions to attach to surfaces throughout your home to kill viruses that aren't just present in your air.

REDUCES SNEEZE GERMS

Spreading viruses is easy because sneeze germs can typically reach up to 20 feet from their source. With the Reme Halo, its specific ionization technology will kill the sneeze germs three feet from their source.
